City of Sanger hosting two Easter Egg Hunts

The City of Sanger is EGGcited to once again host our annual Easter Egg Hunts for ALL ages of the community! "Our traditional hunt has been modified to ensure we are doing all we can to keep everyone safe in regards to Covid-19," said Jennifer Shumate of Sanger Parks and Recreation. All staff on site will be wearing mask and masks would be recommended for any adults assisting children during the hunt (0-5 age groups only can be assisted). (Any children requiring special assistance will be allowed to have a parent on field to help.) To assist with social distancing guidelines age groups will be started at staggered times this year and parents will only be able to assist children in the 0-5 age groups. No parents will be allowed on the egg hunting field for ages 6-12. Children and adults lined up and waiting for the hunt to start will surround the egg hunting field on all four sides and social distancing will be required between groups not in attendance together. Staggering the hunt will allow for a larger egg hunting field and less close contact between participants. Parents/Guardians will be required to socially distance while waiting on their children to hunt eggs.

Egg hunts will NOT start early so we will ask that once your age group is finished that you move to your car to allow the next age group to line up and in saying this we ask that if it is not time for your age group that you wait in your car until five (5) minute prior to your start time.

The Easter Bunny will be available for pictures but we will only be able to do one child/sibling group and no large groups. The Easter Bunny will be set up near the dock and social distancing while in line will be enforced with a specific entry and exit point.

Sanger ISD exploring bond to build new high school and more

The Sanger ISD is accepting Requests for Qualifications (RFQ) for Architectural Services. The deadline for submission is Tuesday, April 6. See RFQ on page 6:

The school board will use an Architectural Firm to design a new high school or possible middle school. Sanger ISD has plenty of land just east of the current high school to build a two-story campus, housing 1200 students. The most logical idea is construct a new high school and 6th, 7th and 8th grade students would move to the current high school.

A CTE stand-alone center is being proposed, as well. The Career and Technical Education (CTE) Center is a facility with real-world learning spaces and equipment for students in grades nine through twelve. ... High school students take introductory classes and all core classes at their home campus and then take advanced courses at the CTE Center. Also SMS eighth grade students can take high school courses at the center.

Why now? The $26 million bond that was voted down three years ago, which didn't include a new school would be over $50 million now, as materials and labor prices have skyrocketed. Sanger is growing fast with several subdivisions popping up with new home construction. The district wants to be prepared.

"We need to tackle this now," said Sanger ISD Superintendent Dr. Tommy Hunter. "For a bond that is $90 million in 10 years, the cost might double for the financial bond and interest at the time. Doing this now, could save the district around $100 million in the long run."

The bond proposal is estimated at $115 million total. But, some items would be a La Carte, listing some separately for voters. Construction of a new high school (around $60 million), CTE Center ($8-10 million). SISD wants to add a new Ag Barn and upgrade touches on all the campus schools in the district. They are also considering a possible "basic" Field House with locker rooms and concession stand for the stadium.

In 2020, there was a change in the state's bond election procedures. Now you can vote for the first time on individual projects rather than a single bond package. Sports and fine arts facilities are listed on separate parts of a school bond package. In prior years, Texans cast a single vote on an entire bond proposal, with no opportunity to reject specific spending requests.

There will be several Town Hall Meetings scheduled next May for the public to attend and go for a vote in November 2022.

The district is not pushing for a November 2021 vote, because they want as much attendance as possible for the public meetings. If it was held this year, meetings would have to take place in the summer months, where a lot of families are traveling on vacations.

John Thomas "Pete" Isbell

July 16, 1948 - March 24, 2021

John Thomas Isbell, known to most as "Pete", suddenly passed away on Wednesday, March 24, 2021 at Medical City in Denton at the age of 72 due to side effects of the COVID-19 vaccine. The son of John Belton "Dutch" and Madge (Hall) Isbell was born on July 16, 1948 in Denton, Texas. Pete was a graduate of Sanger High School in the Class of 1966.

Pete was a dairyman southwest of Sanger working along with his dad until 1987 when his dad sold the dairy named DIP Dairy. He was very proficient in artificial insemination in breeding their Holstein cows. After being a dairyman for his adult life, he had to change careers and he loved being a volunteer firefighter for Sanger. He wanted to work as a firefighter in Denton but was too small to qualify for the job. Therefore, he chose the next closest thing which was being an EMT. He worked as an EMT for a while and then decided he wanted to become a nurse. He started nursing school and worked at the old Westgate Hospital in Denton while attending school. After graduation he worked at several hospitals in Dallas and Denton. He specialized in ICU nursing including open heart surgery, ICU charge nurse, ER nurse and supervising nurse at Denton Regional Medical Center Denton. As he started going into retirement, he worked at a few nursing homes in Denton before retirement in 2020. Pete was a very knowledgeable, caring and helpful nurse. Some of the doctors he worked with would call him Dr. Pete because he was so knowledgeable working with critical heart patients. He touched a lot of friends lives when they or their family were in the hospital where he was working. In Pete's pastime, he loved fishing and camping at Lake Ray Roberts.

On June 18, 1971, Pete married Wanda Ann Morgan in Sanger which resulted in 2 sons, Van and Thomas Isbell. That union did not last and on December 17, 1988 Pete married Debra Kay Stone, who had 3 daughters, Belinda Black, Melinda Zehetner and Tiffany Dowdy that he helped raise.

Pete was preceded in death by his parents. He is survived by his wife Debbie of Denton; sisters Sue Ellen (Isbell) Hess and husband Conrad of Sicklerville, New Jersey and Stella Spradley and husband Danny of Anton, TX, and Reba Swink of Crosbyton; Step-mother Kay Isbell of Lubbock; sons, Van Travis Isbell of Lewisville and Thomas Ray Isbell and wife Diana of Fort Worth; daughters, Belinda Black and husband Chris of Denton, Melinda Zehetner and husband Jim of Corinth, Tiffany Dowdy, and husband Matt of Krum; seven grandchildren; and cousin, Scott Thames.

A visitation for Pete was held from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm on Sunday, March 28, 2021 at Coker Funeral Home in Sanger. Graveside services were held under the Pavilion at the Sanger Cemetery at 2:30 pm on Monday, March 29, 2021. Dickie Amyx officiated the service. Serving as pallbearers were Thomas Isbell, Chris Black, Jim Zehetner, Matt Dowdy, Zach Dowdy, and Ely Dowdy.

Wallace Claude Sparkman

April 21, 1930 - March 24, 2021

Another angel has earned his wings. Wallace Sparkman of Midland, Texas passed from this world to the next on Wednesday, March 24, 2021. The youngest of four children born to Dudley Albert and Jewell Enlow Sparkman, Wallace joined his family on April 21, 1930 in Denton, Texas. It didn't take long for those around him to realize Wallace was destined for greatness. He was a natural leader, a hard worker, and a successful entrepreneur before the term was ever coined.

In 1945 Wallace experienced two events that would forever change his life. As a member of the Future Farmers of America, he was chosen to represent his area at the national FFA convention. The young farm boy who had never been far from home travelled all the way to Chicago from Denton, by train. Later that summer, while working at his brother's filling station in town, he looked up and spotted a young woman walking down the road. It was love at first sight and at the age of 15 he declared, "I'm going to marry that girl one day!" He did marry that girl - Patsy Delores Devine Mason - on June 30, five years later, and they shared over 67 years of life together.

Two years after their marriage Wallace was drafted by the Army and sent to Paris, where he helped build landing strips for the Air Force. When talking about those years, he always joked and said he was proud to have kept the North Koreans out of Paris. After he made it home however, he faced a much more traumatic trial when the car he was driving was struck head on by a drunk driver, killing two of his best friends and seriously injuring another friend and himself. Later he would talk about how, as he was dying, he had seen "the light" of Christ but determined God had additional work for him to do on Earth. And work, he did.

After attending elementary school in a one room schoolhouse, Wallace graduated from North Texas Demonstration School, then took several finance courses at the University of North Texas. He was then hired as secretary/treasurer of Denton Federal Savings & Loan in 1957 and worked his way up to president. After eight years he left the Savings & Loan and formed a real estate investment company, where he taught himself how to be a successful entrepreneur. Several years later he joined his brother-in-law, George Horine, in building Tejas Gas Corporation. He learned the oil and gas business from the ground up, working in the field before he ever entered the office, serving first as Vice President, then President of the company. As President he took the company public, listed on NASDAQ. It was during this transaction that he met Zene Gurley, who would become his lifelong friend and "brother." Wallace later started or purchased several more companies he and Zene would take public in the ensuing years.

When he sold his shares in Tejas, Wallace decided to "dabble" in oil and gas to "have something to do." Within a few years he had built Sparkman Energy into a NYSE-worthy mega company and, with the purchase of Midland-based Yale E. Key, was once more headed to New York to ring the bell. Several years later he again found himself needing something to do. After helping many other aspiring entrepreneurs build successful businesses, Wallace focused his sights on the West Texas oilfields and, when he bought Flare King in 1993, he and Patsy moved to Midland. Several mergers and acquisitions later he made his last trip to the floor of the NYSE when he took Flare King, by then called Natural Gas Services Group, public. In 2005 Wallace retired in order to "enjoy things I have postponed." That retirement didn't last long and for the rest of his life Wallace, instead, enjoyed what he loved the most: making deals and watching his family grow. Of the many proud moments in his life, his proudest were when he was baptized in Cooper Creek, marrying the girl of his dreams, and the birth of his children.

Wallace Sparkman's life is a lesson in success. He loved God, he loved his family, he loved his country, and he loved people in general. He was quick with a smile and quick to help. He loved business and he loved challenge. Wallace Sparkman was a visionary who could see so much more in any situation than those around him. It is all these things and so many more that grew the little farm boy from Denton, Texas into the legend he became.

Left behind are his children, Ren-Å (Tommy) Pipes and Scott (Stephanie) Sparkman, grandchildren Lindsey (Jonathan) Pipes Smith, Courtney Pipes, Heath (Suzanne) Pipes, Donny (Stacey) Pipes, Nathan (Emily) Bouch-Å, and Jessica Bouch-Å Sparkman, great-grandchildren Tucker, John, Mark, Elle and Ryland Matis, Nixon, Wyatt and Lucas Bouch-Å, Avery, Alyssa and Ashley Pipes, Kinzi and Tate Pipes, and Finn Korben Smith, and his beloved 18 1/2 year old poodle, Emmie Lou. He was preceded in death by Patsy, his parents, each of his siblings - Dudley C. and Urial S. "Pig" Sparkman, and J. Alyne Sparkman Horine - and many friends and business partners.

A public viewing was held Sunday, March 28 from 1:00pm to 5:00pm at Nalley-Pickle & Welch Funeral Home, 3800 N. Big Spring in Midland. Visitation was held from 10:00am to 11:00am, Tuesday, March 30 at Gribble Springs Baptist Church, 6933 FM 2164 in Sanger, TX. Funeral Service followed at 11:00am. Masonic graveside will follow at Gribble Springs Cemetery.

Financial FOCUS

By Allen Chick,
Edward Jones

Will investors change behavior after the pandemic?

The COVID-19 pandemic may end up changing our lives in some significant ways. To cite one example, it's likely we'll see a lot more people continue to work remotely, now that they've seen the effectiveness of tools such as videoconferencing. Education, too, may be forever changed in some ways. Perhaps just as important, though, is how many people may now think more about the future – including how they invest.

If you work with a financial professional, you may have connected with this individual over the past several months through a videoconferencing platform, rather than in person. Some people like this arrangement because it offers more scheduling flexibility and eliminates the time and effort of traveling to and from an appointment. Others, however, still prefer face-to-face contact and look forward to when such arrangements will again be practical and safe for everyone involved. But if you're in the first group – that is, you prefer videoconferencing – you may now wish to use this communication method in the future, at least some of the time.

But beyond the physical aspects of your investing experience, you may now be looking at some changes in your investment strategy brought on, or at least suggested, by your reactions to the pandemic.

For example, many people – especially, but not exclusively, those whose employment was affected by the pandemic – found that they were coming up short in the area of liquidity. They didn't have enough easily accessible savings to provide them with the cash they needed to meet their expenses until their employment situations stabilized. Consequently, some individuals were forced to dip into their long-term investments, such as their 401(k)s and IRAs. Generally speaking, this type of move is not ideal – these accounts are designed for retirement, so, the more you tap into them early, the less you'll have available when you do retire. Furthermore, your withdrawals will likely be taxable, and, depending on your age, may also be subject to penalties.

If you were affected by this liquidity crunch, you can take steps now to avoid its recurrence. Your best move may be to build an emergency fund containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, with the funds held in a separate, highly accessible account of cash or cash equivalents. Of course, given your regular expenses, it may take some time to build such an amount, but if you can commit yourself to putting away a certain amount of money each month, you will make progress. Even having a few hundred dollars in an emergency fund can help create more financial stability.

Apart from this new appreciation for short-term liquidity, though, the foundation for your overall financial future should remain essentially the same. In addition to building your emergency fund, you should still contribute what you can afford to your IRA, 401(k) and other retirement plans. If you have children you want to send to college, you might still explore college-funding vehicles such as a 529 plan. Higher education will still be expensive, even with an expansion in online learning programs.

Post-pandemic life may contain some differences, along with many similarities to life before. But it will always be a smart move to create a long-term financial strategy tailored to your individual needs, goals and risk tolerance.

SHS SOAR staff and students recognized

Liz Cogdell-Ellis and Greg Hillis - branch president of First United Bank in Sanger, personally presented the students and faculty at SHS.

SHS is very appreciative of First United Bank for recognizing the SOAR staff and students for the third nine weeks!

SANGER OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC RECOGNITION:

The honorary teacher is Mr. Dowden! Students share that Mr. Dowden is a considerate man who really listens to what they have to say. He is interactive, takes pride in his work, and supports and believes in you when you don't. He also does everything he can to help students pass a very difficult class.

The honorary staff members are Janitors Donnie Howard, Elvira Ibarra, and Enedina Puente! The students of Sanger High School have said how grateful they are for the work you all do to keep the building clean and beautiful. They are so proud to have you on the SHS team and so very thankful for the pride you put into your service. "Thank you for always being there for us. We love you!"

The Freshmen Scholar is Sigrid Sung! Sigrid has improved in her studies and has always kept a positive attitude even when she didn't understand something. After a little perseverance, she has stepped up to the challenge.

The Freshman Indian is Addy Morlatt! Addy is always willing to help out both her peers and teachers in need. She always goes above and beyond to try and make others smile. She is always willing to spend her spare time helping her friends in need (even when she should probably be doing other things)! Addy is a true Indian!

The Sophomore Scholar is Chandler Bowland! Chandler is a great student that has kept up with work even while being involved in multiple school activities.

The Sophomore Indian is Grace Wallace! One of her teachers shared that over the last 3 grading periods she has gotten to know Grace both as a student and a competitor. The passion she has for everything she does helps to inspire and support her team to make them as successful as they can be. She is always there to support her friends and lift them up, everyone deserves a friend like Grace.

The Junior Scholar is Avery Donaldson! Avery is an outstanding student academically as well as athletically and shows kindness to everyone she meets. Avery is always trying to help out students who are in need of tutoring, or if they have a personal question as well.

The Junior Indian is

Shaylee Cryer! Shaylee is a good example of a Sanger Indian. She is always asking questions, trying to learn as much as possible in class, and willing to always help out students who are confused about the information. Shaylee is very encouraging to her classmates, no matter if they are friends or not.

The Senior Scholar is Reese Chancellor! Reese is an outstanding student at Sanger High School. Often flying under the radar, Reese goes above and beyond to help his teachers and fellow Indians. Reese has been tutoring Mrs. Windham's biology students every 7-8 period and sometimes during tribe time. Reese has been accepted into the highest level of the US Navy (Nuclear Engineering) and will report for duty on July 29th.

The Senior Indian is Aidan Kearney! Anyone who knows Aidan knows you have a friend in him! Aidan is always cheerful and willing to do what is needed to help his fellow students.

The Online Scholar is Callia Turner! Callia is always completing assignments and turning them in on time. When she needs help, she reaches out. If she doesn't get questions right on assignments, she wants to get them right.

Perfect Attendance winners for the 3rd nine-weeks are Collin Murphy and Zane Barnett
