Tom Thumb opens with rave reviews

The Tom Thumb located at 1413 W. Chapman Drive in Sanger opened to the public last Friday. The first 300 shoppers received a bag full of groceries and all shoppers enjoyed the incredible deals and sensational offerings.

Customers were lined up before the 6 a.m. opening on Friday, December 12. And the public had marvelous reviews of the new grocery store. On Sunday, four customers won free groceries for a year.

Since April 2021, Sanger hasn't had a grocery store. Super Save closed permanently at the end of the day Sunday, April 25th because of TxDOT FM 455 and HWY I-35 expansions. The original store Burrus Supermarket opened September 10, 1979 and was remodeled and expanded on the north end in August of 1989. Burrus sold to Bill Kiker in September of 2003 and the store name changed to Super Save. Around 2009 Homeland Grocery of Oklahoma bought out Mr. Kiker and has owned the store up to April 25th, 2021. Sandra Ann Thomas Bowles

November 30, 1945 - December 16, 2025

Sandra Ann (Sandy) Thomas Bowles experienced a reunion she has long awaited as she passed peacefully into her rest early December 16, 2025. Waiting alongside her Lord and Savior to greet Sandy were her daughter, Tonya, her grandson, Ryan Hooper, her granddaughter, ShyAnn Hooper, her parents James Wylie (Buster) Thomas and Buena Browning Thomas, two sisters and two brothers. It was a joyous reunion with tears of joy flowing even in a place where all tears are said to be dried, but since these were tears of joy, those tears were allowed.

Sandy was born November 30, 1945 in Orange County, California, the only one of her siblings born in California. Sandy and her family moved back to Texas and lived in the Gribble Springs community outside of Sanger when her father became ill with cancer. Sandy's experience with grief started at a young age when her father passed away.

She was seven years old when she first experienced the pain of grief. But the love of a large extended family sustained Sandy from that point and throughout her life. She had the privilege of watching a strong, faithful woman teach her to love her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Sandy was loved and nurtured by her older siblings: Wendell Thomas, Wanda Reed, James Thomas, Buena Rae (Bunny) McWhorter, Jessie Ashby and Rachel Hope.

In 1964, Sandy met her soon to be husband, Dennis (DL) Bowles. She first saw him covered in black dirt driving a tractor plowing a field as she looked out the back door of her sister's house. Jessie found out who that young man was and arranged the introduction. On their first date, DL took Sandy to a rodeo at which Sandy asked if he rode bulls. When DL said he did, Sandy informed him that he didn't ride bulls anymore. DL quit bull riding that night and two weeks later they became engaged. They were married two years later on May 1, 1965.

This marriage joined two large families and led to the birth of Tonya Denise Bowles, Sandra Bowles Hooper and Grant Thomas Bowles. Four grandchildren followed: Ryan Clinton Hooper, Katelyn ShyAnn Hooper, Mckinzie Bowles Johnson (husband Garrett Johnson), Sandy showed her love through her matchless hospitality and cooking. Throughout her years, Sandy made sure her home was open to all who needed some extra love. Numerous nieces, nephews and friends of her children lived at her house for varying lengths of time. Her cookies were LEGENDARY! Some might even say life-changing and they will be sorely missed.

Sandy possessed another superpower. She somehow remembered the birthday of all her siblings, parents, in-laws, nieces and nephews. That may not sound like a great achievement until you realize she had over 40 nieces and nephews plus their spouses and kids.

Generations of children spent part of their early 7:00pm. Funeral services will be held at Singing Oaks life resting on Sandy's shoulders as she rocked them to sleep working in childcare for both the Sanger ISD and First Baptist Church. She held numerous other jobs besides her most important role of loving wife, mother and grandmother.

Sandy made it very clear that she did not want many flowers at her funeral. The family requests that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the ShyAnn Hooper or Ryan Hooper Memorial Scholarships through the Northwest ISD Education Foundation, or the Bowles Family Endowment being established through the First Baptist Church of Sanger.

A memorial service will be held at First Baptist Sanger on Sunday December 21 at 3 PM with her son, Grant Bowles and nephew, Matt Bowles officiating.

October 25, 1923 - December 15, 2025

On December 15, 2025, avid traveler and Denton County and Texas historian, Idaleene "Slipper" Scheu

Fuqua, passed away at the age of 102 in Denison, Texas. Given the nickname "Slipper" by co-workers at last name was pronounced "shoe" Idaleene traveled widely across the US and Europe, Mexico, and the Bahamas, however, her heart re-Continuously curious about state, town, and family histories, Idaleene drew upon her own familial past in "Songs of Sanger," a newspaper column she wrote for several years for the Sanger Courier. She remained vital and vigorous until her late 90s Idaleene was born on October 25, 1923 in Wayne, Oklahoma to Fred H. and Ida Christine Scheu. She was the eldest child who was soon accompanied by brother Freddy, Jr. Both children were born at home by kerosene oil lamp light – a humble home without electricity and indoor plumbing. Idaleene often remarked that she was a vanishing ethnicity, German on both sides of her family, second-generation American, U.S. citizen and one hundred percent Texan. She was a direct descendant of the only Wendish Colony ever established in North America, established in 1854 in Serbin, Texas.

The family soon relocated from Wayne to Sanger, Texas where her father, Fred, was the Santa Fe Railroad station master for several decades that spanned the Great Depression and World War II. Fred was a veteran of The Great War (World War I); he received a Purple Heart for his bravery and his wounds. Idaleene often told a story about meeting Eleanor Roosevelt, the First Lady, on a whistle-stop train tour in the 1930s. After graduation from Sanger High School in 1941, Idaleene worked at Russell's Department Store in Denton while she attended North Texas State Teacher's College (before it eventually became the University of North Texas). She stopped her university studies to assist in the care of her father, however, her desire to pursue a career in the travel industry proved strong enough to prompt her to apply for a job with American Airlines. In 1945, while World War II was coming to a close, she was hired by American Airlines to be trained as a reservationist and ticket agent. Her training took her to New York City and the borough of Queens; at this point, she knew she had found her career path in the travel industry.

While in this new job and back in Dallas, Idaleene developed strong friendships with many coworkers. Daily, she made telephone reservations directly with Hollywood stars and other famous folks including John Wayne, Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, and Cary Grant. She was an avid bowler on the American Airlines bowling team in Oak Cliff. Among her friends was a young woman named Alvina Wehring with whom she shared an apartment and a later love for poodles. During the early 1950s, Idaleene met and wed her first husband Merle Weaver, of Waco. They Idaleene gave up her career to be a full-time wife and mother. The family moved to from College Station to Lubbock, Seymour, and finally to Overton, Texas, following Mack's work for Texas A&M University Research and Extension Service. Idaleene was an avid reader who patronized many public libraries in Texas; she believed strongly in curiosity, the power of the written word, and the role of literacy, education, and art in society. Idaleene was, moreover, forthright and never demur- she would tell you exactly what was on her mind with nary a nod to consequence. Whether it was performing on stage with Shirley Banks as Carol Burnett Show-inspired cleaning ladies at the Parents and Teachers Association showcase in Seymour, Texas or recommending clients switch tour packages, Idaleene approached life with seriousness and always a dose of levity. She was at heart a prankster. In the 1970s, before texting and email, if she visited a friend who was not at home, Idaleene would stack outdoor chairs, plant pots, pans, whatever she could find, and place this arrangement by the back door. That was a sure sign that Idaleene had stopped by!

In the late 1970s, as her second marriage was ending, she was looking ahead as she received her certification as a travel agent/consultant through a course at Wellesley College in 1984. She continued to work as a travel agent in Tyler, Waco, Denton, and Sherman well into her early 80s; her career spanned 57 years. Out of necessity as much as love for her work, Idaleene was a knowledgeable businesswoman who brought her lived travel experience in Europe to her clients. She talked fondly of many of her clients and they also held her in high esteem. She demonstrated personalized care for her of her clients' travel desires - a talent that is very much lacking in today's impersonal, internet-driven travel industry.

Idaleene was a charter member of the DC-3 Coalition of Flagship Knoxville of the C.R. Smith American Airlines Aviation Museum. The late A.C. Green of the Dallas Morning News called Idaleene "a true historian". Her historical documentation work is in a number of Texas museums: The University of Texas Restoration at Winedale, Wendish Museum at Serbin, Waco Historical Society for Women, The Cell Block Museum in Hillsboro - Denton Historical Commission (Texas Historical Commission, Austin, Texas). She noted that her proudest accomplishment was the establishment of the State of Texas plaque commemorating the establishment of a water stop and cattle loading facility at 392.16 in 1884 that would become Sanger, Texas. She was a charter member of the Sanger Area Historical Society and served on the archives committee. She wrote a historical column for the Sanger Courier for eight years – a total of 416 entries that are now in the archives of the Sanger Museum.

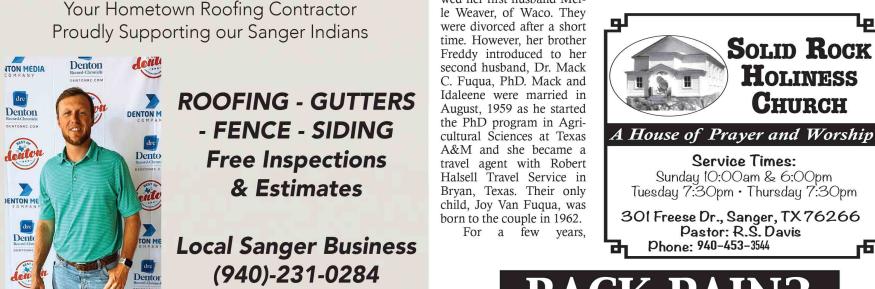

She was preceded in death by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Scheu of Waco, her brother Fred Jr. and wife Billie of Richardson, her beloved cousins Pauline Alpha, Carolyn Helton, Walter Ender, aunts, and uncles including Olga and Reinholdt Ender. She is survived by her only child, Joy Van (JV) Fuqua of New York City and New Mexico; her nephew Chris Don Scheu and family of Richardson; Stacey Helton and family of Ft. Worth, and many life-long friends such as Jim and Shirley Banks and family of Iowa Park; Kevin Turner of Dallas and his husband the late Bill McCool of Dallas; the Barnes family of Pottsboro; Reverend Virgie Holbrook and family, and many others. Idaleene was cared for, additionally, by the staff of Brookdale Assisted Living where she resided for the last several years. Spiritually. Idaleene was of the Presbyterian persuasion and politically, after being a Republican for most of her adult life, she volunteered for President Barack Obama's campaigns and became a proud card-carrying Democrat and member of PFLAG (Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gavs).

Remembrances and donations may be made to the Sanger Area Historical Museum or Sanger Educational Foundation for Faculty Advancement. A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

Aldridge trained horses while working full-time in construction engineering. Rodeo was not part of her lifestyle. "I'd honestly be surprised if I had entered ten rodeos in my life before this year," she said. When she finally committed to a season, she didn't quit her job— in her words, "I just stopped going.'

Her original goal was modest: break into the Top 30 and learn the system. "I gave myself two years," she said. "My whole plan was to make mistakes the first year, learn the ropes, and maybe have a real shot the second year."

Her year did not follow that plan. ALONG CAME ADIOS

Dear Santa Thanks for the pitching machine last Christmas.I hope you and the reindeer are ready for the big trip this year.I have decided to use a $50 budget this year This Christmas I would like a youth EvoShield bannana ball comet arm sleeve which is $25 and I did the math we have $25 left My brother needs a new baseball glove so, can you get him the youth athletic baseball glove that is $18 which leaves $7 left. If you can can you get me small toys.

Dear Santa Thankyou for my presents a little while ago. Oh and by the way I am on a fifty dollar budget. This year I want to give my cousin a A2000EZcatch glove. Which is 30 dollars. I also want a bucket of 10 u official baseballs. Which is 12 dollars I have left you 1 dollar to spend on other kids. I hope you are feeling good and ready to

I hope you are doing ok and the reindeer becase they are so cute enevways my name is Harper i live in Sanger teases. What i want is a pink Owala free sip cup and for my mom i want to get her a threshold Moira ceramic mug and the prices that they cost is eight dollars and for the pink owala is 29.99 and i did the math and i got forty dollars dollars left for other kids and i hope you have the best Christmas ever byHarper

Dear Santa Thank you so much for the gifts ever year. I hope you are ready to give out gifts Are the reindeer ready to fly.l know you need to work with in a $50 dollar budget ,so I picked 2 things one is for me, and the other is for my dad.I want a Lego speed champions Bugatti centideci hyper sports car The thing my dad needs is a Athletic works pickle ball padle. He needs it because we are starting to play pick le ball. I have done the math and I got $9.06 left. You can probably use it for other gifts for other people.

Your friend, Brody

Dear Santa Thank you for getting me presents. I am really grateful from last year so I have a budget of 50 dollars are you doing good ok I am glad to here that well a thing. That my mom needs is a make up palace and that cost 27 32 dollars And that leaves me with 22 68 dollars And I need a new skateboard and that cost 14 26 dollars and that leaves me with 8.42 so that is all I am asking for so if you can do it then thank you but if you cant do it then it is ok. And my mom needs a make up palace because she broke hers last week. And I need a skate board because mine broke a year ago from:Justin

Dear Santa hi How are you? Are you good? I am On the good ist on my other bad list. don't know anyways I know you have $50 and I'm wondering if you can get me a skateboard thatcost $17.96. and then for my mom, she needs a Stanley that cost $27.00 you shouldhave $15.04 left go by another kid at present. Thank you. See you next year. Love, Rhus

Dear Santa, Hi how are you doing? How is Missis Claus doing? This year for presents i'm going to stay within a $50 dollar budget. So ,for a present for somebody, I would like it to be a camo beanie that's $5.00 for my dad, because he doesn't have a beanie to wear and now it's cold outside. For me could I have a spinner bait that $7.00 dollars for bass, I need it beacause I really want to catch a big bass, and they can. That would leave mewith $38. I subtracted it by adding $5 plus $7 and got $12, then I subtracted $50 minus$12. I hope you can use that money to buy other kids toys who don't ever get them Santa I think I have been good this year but I think I could work better with people aschool. I hope you have a great Christmas. Sincerly,

Dear Santa How are you and your reindeer? I hope good. I just want two things. I only have a budget of $50. For me, I want a water blaster It cost $18, so that would leave us with $32. My friend needs some new soccer cleats. They cost $25, so that would leave you with $7 you can use for someone else

Hope you pass out all the presents. Have a good year. Merry Christmas! BYE!

Dear Santa,

How are you doing? Is Mrs. Clause coming to deliver presents? I hope she is. I know this year you have a $50 budget. Don't worry. I've already done the math for you. Okay, so I think I should be on the nice list because I've been good in school, and I have never ever been grounded. To start, I would like my teacher Mrs Hull to have the Tag Collectors Panda Bear Coffee Mug because she really loves coffee and pandas. The mug is $5.00 so that would leave us $45 00 I would like 1 which is $14.71. That would leave $30. 29 for you to buy more presents for other Thank you so much and have a very Merry Love.

Dear. Santa Hi Santa it's me Henry! I fed your raindeer last crismas! I know I've been a little bit bad. But will you get me a $15 Minecraft crossbow nerf gun that comes with 6 bullits and a $12 blue glitter notebook for my mom pls? 50-15=35-12=23 I did that math so you knew how much money I would have left of my $50 ulowins. P.S whats your life like at the North Pole? Love Henry

Dear Santa how you Been? I bet your probably given the reindeer carrots. How are those reindeer they good bet they are good. Well i have been so good. For example my basketball practices has already been asome. So since I I'm being good this year with a budget of $50 I would like a make up kit that's $25. That leaves you with 25$ for Presley Presley should like a mini curling iron on Walmar. For 6.28. The reason she needs it is cause, she's always curling her hair. So for her to do it on her own whould be so cool for her. Hope you like my cookies and milk – Hadlee

Thank you so much for my gifts. I hope you rested well and ready to gave everyone gifts. How are the reindeer? I have 50$ to buy something. For Christmas, i want a penguin plushly that cost $29.00. Wish is $21.00. My friend need a capybara plush that cost $36.99. Wish is $14.99 why because she love it. My behavior was run around the table. I hope you have a great Christmas and get of cookies and milk. Love, Eduardo

Dear Santa, Hello Santa how are the rain dear and the elves going, I have a question for you how do you get to all of the people around the world in just one night?
Santa I'm not greedy so you can spend $50.00 for My gifts I have two gifts, one for me and one for someone who Needs it. My first gift is for me, may I please have a fuzzy chair to store my secret stash-o-candy...... umm.....anyhoo, the next gift is for my sister she needs a big fluffy pillow for her bed. The fuzzy chair costs $20.27, and the big fluffy pillow costs about fluffy pillow costs about $19.20. I did the math on a sheet of paper, what I did was I took the total amount of money which is $50.00 and I subtracted it with the cost of the big fluffy chair=$20.27, and then what I got I subtracted the amount left over = $29.73, and then I took the cost of the pillow=$19.20 and then I subtracted the amount lef over with $19.20=the pillow and the left over amount is $10.07 so you can use it to buy something for someone Sincerely

Dear Santa,
How have you been?! Tell the elves that they are doing a great job preparing for Christmas. I personally think I did a good job being good this year, except for a few days in the Summer:
Anyways, I saw that the shelter needs a few blankets, and I found a three pack for 25.97, and it would be perfect if you could make their day by delivering those. Also, if its not that much trouble, I would like to receive a box of crayons that is 5.35.
I know you're on a tight budget this year, so I made sure all of this is under 50\subsection You will have 18.68\subsection left after buying all the parts. To get this,
I subtracted 25.97 from 50 and got 24.03 left. Then I took 5.35 away from that, and there is 18.68. Once you're finished, you can use the remaining finished, you can use the remaining money to buy yourself something nice ().

I'll understand if you can't make both of these happen, but I would be so thankful if you could. Have a great teacher Mr. Markezinis does. Do you like math? I have $50 Can I get a dog which Is $31.25? And for my dad a $9.99 cowboy hat? So I added 31.25 to 9.99 and got 41.24. So you have $6.76 left. Do you like school? Do you like baseball and how old are you? Am I on the bad or good list? Thank you so much!

Justyn. 50$-$16.10=$33.90-$1.45=$32.45. You will have $32.45 cents left. Dear Santa,

You will nave $52.45 dents left. Dear Santa, How are you? Have you had a good rest from last year? Have the reindeer been any trouble? Anyways if you can for Christmas this year I would love a new Owala water bottle that costs, $22.36. That leaves me with $27.64 since I have money left if it isn't to much trouble I would like to my friend a new vanity chair and that's costs $21.85 so that leaves me with $5.79. I know because I did the math and I did it by taking $22.36 and subtracting it by $21.85 and again that left me with $5.79. You can use that to help buy someone else a gift or buy yourself something! Anyway Merry Christmas!!!!! Sincerely, Presley

Dear Santa, I wonder how your life is. If your doing great and if you're reindeer are doing great, I hope you and your elves are enjoying your day. I'm asking for Christmas for my present, if I could have a parrot. I have 50 dollars at the start and now I'm left with 20 dollars and 99 cents. 50 dollars and 99 cents. 30 dollars and 99 cents. 20dollars. I've tried my best this year. I have been better than last year and yeah maybe I've been bad at my house a little bit. But, I've been doing better. Next thing my friend needs a basketball, for basketball practice. So now, I have 20 dollars and 10 cents. Now I'm left with 8dollars and 90cents. So I hope you've been doing great at the North Pole.
Sincerely, Rantley

Dear Santa this year has been interesting. A lot of chaos has happened. Many sad things, weird things, but also exciting things. How has everyone been doing? I hope you got your rest and are ready for Christmas. My birthday is coming up. I'm really excited for it since it's December 11. I'll finally be two digits! I'm really excited because my grandma is coming the 9th. This my grandma is coming the 9th. This year I have done what I can to be on the good list. So I think I deserve to be on the good list. If it's not too much trouble to ask, can I have a 26.35 dollar hair curler? I also want to get a 18.22 dollar yoga set for my mother. When I did the math I did 26.35 plus, 18.22 and ended up with 44.57. After that I subtracted 44.57 minus, 50.00 and then ended up with 14.57. This does not go over your budget so I hope it's fine. I hope you are ready for Christmas and have a good year but until then, Hope you have all the cookies you want and help have a wonderful Christmas. Sincerely. Sincerely,
