Sanger Pro Wakesurfer Jarrett Scribner teams up with Centurion Boats

Freedom Marine of Lewisville, and Centurion Boats are honored to have the Scribner Family sign-on to promote the Worlds Best Waves of Centurion boats in Texas. Professional Wake Surfer Jarrett Scribner was sold on the official towboat of the Centurion World Wake Surfing Championship after his Pro Class World Championship runs behind the Ri257 in Kelowna, BC, Canada last year. That performance added to the service-centric reputation of Dallas Area Centurion Dealer Freedom Marine prompted the Scribners to choose to be on this team. Since the Correct Craft purchase in 2015, many changes within the brand and product line are now being noticed by wake surfing enthusiasts and professional competitors alike. Centurion and Freedom wanted to partner with Scribner because of his high-level riding, but this partnership is also due to his character and

William Douglas Harper

Sept. 21, 1938 - Jan. 31, 2018

William Douglas Harper, better known as “Doug” was born in Sanger, Texas on September 21, 1938 and passed away on January 31, 2018 in Plano, Texas after a battle with Cancer at the age of 79 with his family at his side. He met Kelli Mischele (Raney) Harper and married her on a Leap Year of February 29, 1980 and has been happily married for 38 years. He is survived by his wife Kelli M. Harper, a daughter Lori Lynn Little and her husband Mike, with their children Andrew Harper, Brandee and Dustin Murphy and their son Grayson Marcus Murphy; his son, Michael “Chance” Harper and his wife Kelly A. Harper, with their children Jamie Douglas Harper and Joey Douglas Harper; four grandchildren Mackenzie Harper, Bentley Douglas Harper, Emerson Douglas Harper, Jackson Douglas Harper; his youngest brother Don Harper and his wife Jeanette. He was preceded in death by his son, Richard Douglas Harper, his parents William Henry Harper and Vera Fay (Lanier) Harper, and his oldest brother Bennie Harper and wife Robbie Dale Harper.

Doug grew up in and around Carrollton, Texas and graduated from Carrollton High School in 1956. He later went to work for Texas Instruments Inc. where he retired after 39 plus years of service in August 1998. He loved being outside and being active outdoors. He had a passion for golf, so much so that he went and volunteered as a greens marshal at several of the local golf courses around Allen and Plano. We all know that golf is a game of skill and luck, and in his life, he was lucky enough to have four holes-in-one during his playing career. In his younger days, he loved taking his sons fishing in and around Lake Lavon. He loved crappie fishing most. He spent an enormous amount of time relishing and spoiling his grandchildren with simple things like trips to the movies or dinner. Never afraid to hurt someone’s feelings when he spoke his mind, he was always the first one to help a friend in need without being asked. He was active in the church, where he attended Waterview Church of Christ in Richardson, Texas, and was always at service with a smile and warm words for all he met.

The family received friends from 6pm to 8pm on Friday, February 2, 2018 at Coker Funeral Home, 403 Pecan Street, Sanger, Texas. A funeral service was held at 10am on Saturday, February 3, 2018 at the Waterview Church of Christ, 1409 N. Waterview Dr., Richardson, Texas with Robert Taylor presiding over the service. Interment followed the services at 12:30 pm in the Sanger Cemetery in Sanger.

James Earl Scribner

Jan. 19, 1940 - Feb. 5, 2018

James Earl Scribner, 78, of Denton, TX passed away on February 5 surrounded by his family. Jim was born on January 19, 1940 in Lubbock, Texas and was the son of Earl and Vera Scribner. He graduated from Gainesville High School in 1958 and then attended Wichita State University where he played on a football scholarship. He married his high school sweetheart Laura Ann Mercer in 1959. After college graduation, he moved his family to Kingman Kansas where he taught school and coached HS football. In 1967 he brought his family back to Texas where he began his long and successful career in insurance. For 50+ years he served his customers throughout the north Texas area, many of whom became lifelong friends.

Jim was an avid outdoorsman, enjoying many years of golf, hunting and fishing with his boys. He was also a sports enthusiast (lifelong Dallas Cowboys and Texas Rangers fan) and coached all of his sons throughout their youth, and continued to volunteer and coach youth football for many years thereafter. Many people still think of and refer to him as "coach". Jim was a very caring man, always willing to help someone in need no matter how big or small. For many years, he held a golf tournament to raise money in support of the Carpenter Place Children's Home in Wichita Kansas.

Nothing brought Jim more joy than spending time with his 8 grandchildren. From the day each of them were born, they were the focus of his time and attention. Whether it was weekend sleepovers at the Lake House, hunting, fishing, or watching them play sports of all kinds, they were a constant source of pride and joy. He rarely missed a game and was a 'regular' in the stands in Aubrey, Sanger and Jenks, OK. He was extremely proud of every one of them and 'Papa' will be greatly missed.

The family would like to give a heartfelt Thank You to April Woods for the countless hours of compassion and care she has given to both Jim and Laura over the past year. Her kindness and willingness to provide help of any kind has been appreciated more than words can say.

Jim and Laura were members of the Singing Oaks Church of Christ in Denton. He is survived by his wife of 58 years, his son David (Teisha) and children Paden, Wyatt and Emma, son Steven (Michelle) and children Cole, Collin and Kelsey, and son Kenny (Tanya) and children Paige and Jarrett.

Visitation will be held at Singing Oaks Church of Christ on Sunday February 11 from 3:00-4:00 with memorial service immediately following.

For those that may want to give a gift of love or remembrance in Jim's name, please consider a donation to the Carpenter Place | 1501 N Meridian | Wichita, Kansas 67203 | 316.942.3221 office@carpenterplace.org

KIM KOMANDO Q&A

Make your phone's battery last longer, every day

Your cell phone is only as good as its battery. Once its power source runs out, so does your ability to call, check email, and pinpoint your location on a virtual map. Almost everyone has run unexpectedly low, frantically searching the local Starbucks for an open socket.

If your smartphone's battery keeps tapping out before the day is over, there are a few tweaks you can do to help it along. Certain functions in your smartphone are constantly draining your battery. Most of these features you don't necessarily need and turning them off can do wonders for your battery life.

Now, if you have an older iPhone, it could be the battery itself. Apple is offering to replace some iPhone batteries for $29.

Note that the steps to accomplish battery saving tasks in this article may be different on your phone and operating system. If that is the case, look around in the menu specified for similar settings.

• Review location services for every app: GPS is helpful, but it hogs your battery. In theory, you could disable your phone's location services altogether. Obviously, you would lose updates from location-sensitive apps, such as mapping/traffic guides, outdoor running/hiking workout trackers, and even social media check-in apps like Facebook and Foursquare. You may not need these location-based functions, so you won't lose much to switching them off.

A less drastic method is to limit location services for a specific app. Most apps don't need location tracking turned on all the time, and some apps don't need location tracking at all to function properly.

On iOS, you can limit apps' location access to "Never," "While Using the App," or "Always." For most apps, "While Using the App" will be the best setting. You can always restrict it to "Never" if you feel that a particular app doesn't need location info. With that said, having each app's location set to "Always" will be one big battery killing mistake you want to avoid.

To check and modify an iPhone's Location Services, open Settings >> Privacy >> Location Services. From here you could turn Location Services completely off by toggling the switch or scroll down and set the setting for each app.

For Android users, it depends on your Android version and device model but typically you can check an app's location service by going to the Settings app >> Personal >> Location >> "Recent location requests." To control your device's location tracking go to Personal >> Location >> Mode >> then toggle "Location" to Off.

• Turn off background refresh: Background apps are often programmed to refresh constantly even when you're not using them. This allows apps to occasionally check your location, send push notifications, or automatically update its status. This is convenient but too much activity will kill your battery.

Similar to Location Services, review your settings and turn off Background App Refresh for apps that don't require it.

To check Background Refresh on an iPhone go to Settings >> General>> Background App Refresh >> then either toggle the general Background App Refresh setting to Off or better yet, scroll down to select which apps you want it enabled.

On Android, without third-party apps, there's no general toggle to stop background apps. You can try by accessing Settings >> Apps >> Apps Manager >> then select the app to stop it.

• Stop getting email all the time: Push email consumes your battery, especially when multiple email accounts are grabbing messages from the ether at once. For more efficiency, turn off Push for email and set your phone to fetch manually or at set intervals.

To change this setting on an iPhone, go to Settings >> Accounts & Passwords >> Fetch New Data >> then toggle Push to Off. On this same menu, you can set each account to Fetch according to a set schedule or manually. (For best battery savings, set the Fetch schedule to Manual.)

On Android, again it depends on your Android version and device. Typically, you can go to Settings >> Accounts >> Choose email account you want to modify >> Change Sync settings.

• Shorten screen timeout settings: A quick setting you could tweak is your screen timeout settings. The longer your screen is on when it's idle, the more battery life it consumes. Try shortening your phone's timeout setting to better efficiency since this will turn off the screen quicker when you're not using your phone.

To set your Auto-Lock settings on an iPhone, go to Settings >> Display & Brightness >> Auto-Lock >> then set your auto-lock duration. The shorter, the better.

For Android, again it depends on your device, but try going to Settings >> Display >> Screen Timeout to shorten your times.

• Tweak the screen's brightness: You may not think much about the brightness of your screen, but it plays a huge factor in your battery's lifespan. If you are a power user and you have it on full brightness all the time, then you're probably losing two to three hours compared to the same usage at half brightness.

Dimming the screen is great for preserving usable hours on your phone. You can also switch on your smartphone's Auto-Brightness so it will automatically adjust to the current ambient light.

On iOS, you can set the Brightness and turn on Auto-Brightness by going to Settings >> Display & Brightness.

On Android, go to Settings >> Display >> Brightness. You could slide to the desired setting here and also turn on "Automatic Brightness."

• Don't drain it down to zero: To make your smartphone's lithium-ion

Financial Focus

By Allen Chick, Edward Jones

What's the Investment Outlook for 2018?

By most measures, 2017 was a pretty good year for investors. But what can you expect in 2018?

It's difficult to precisely predict the immediate future of the financial markets. However, many signs point to improved global economic growth and rising corporate earnings – both of which are important drivers of stock prices. In the United States, economic growth may be more modest than in other regions, which could result in international stocks outperforming domestic ones.

Here's another consideration: Low interest rates typically benefit the financial markets – and unless inflation jumps sharply, the Federal Reserve will probably remain patient, only raising short-term rates slowly throughout 2018.

Despite these positive signs, there's also reason for caution. Political uncertainty and changes in economic policies may lead to increased market volatility. Another factor is the long-term history of the stock market, which includes a drop of 10% or more – technically called a "correction" – about once a year. We've gone two years since the last correction, so it would not be surprising if we saw one in 2018.

Given this outlook – which could be classified as "moderately optimistic" – what investment moves should you consider this year? Here are a few suggestions:

• Rebalance your portfolio – The market's gains may have increased the value of your stocks so much that they now represent a greater percentage of your portfolio than you had intended – and you may not be comfortable with this increased presence.

So, you may want to rebalance your portfolio to achieve a suitable mix of stocks and bonds, based on your goals, risk tolerance and time horizon. As part of this rebalancing, and in an effort to help reduce the impact of market volatility, you may need to add investment-grade bonds and cash investments. (Of course, bonds carry some risks, too, including interest rate risk and credit risk.) The availability of cash will also make it easier for you to purchase stocks during a market downturn, when prices may be lower.

• Look beyond U.S. borders – You may want to consider adding some international equity investments to your portfolio, if appropriate. As mentioned above, these stocks may do better than U.S. stocks in 2018, but regardless of performance, the presence of global stocks can help diversify your portfolio – and diversification can help decrease your overall risk level. (However, diversification can't guarantee profits or protect against all losses.) Keep in mind that international investing carries some inherent risks, such as those related to currency fluctuations and foreign political and economic events.

• Be aware of "big" versus "little" – If you don't own many stocks of smaller companies, you might consider adding them to your portfolio. Smaller U.S. stocks have traditionally outperformed larger ones and may benefit from stronger economic growth and lower corporate tax rates. Be aware, though that small company stocks tend to be more volatile than those of larger companies. And, as with all stock investments, you may risk losing some or all of your principal.

You may want to consult with a financial professional to determine which of these moves, or any others, are right for you. You can't control the external factors affecting the financial markets, but you can take total charge of your own investment decisions – and in the long run, these decisions can help determine your success as an investor.

battery last longer, do not drain it down completely. The lithium-ion batteries don't have the "memory effect" of older nickel batteries. Nickel batteries had to be drained completely because they tended to forget part of their total capacity if they're not down to zero before recharging.

In lithium-ion batteries, it's the exact opposite. If you drain a lithium-ion battery down to zero, you are actually diminishing its capacity, so it's best to turn your phone off manually before it "dies."

- Always store at 50% charge: If you're storing an unused phone for an extended period – from a few hours to a few weeks – keep the battery charged at 50% before turning it off for storage. For even longer periods, turn on the phone every six months or so and plugging it in to charge it back to 50%.

Lithium-ion batteries apparently have a tendency to destabilize if left discharged for a period of time. If destabilized, a lithium-ion battery could exhibit the thermal runaway effect and explode.

Fortunately, modern lithium-ion batteries have built-in self-destruct mechanisms that will kick in before destabilizing. If the self-destruct circuit is triggered, however, the battery will never be usable again.

Lady Indians finish as runner-up in District 9-4A

The Lady Indians varsity basketball team has dropped the last three district games (Bridgeport, Krum, Argyle) after starting 7-0. The flu bug and injuries have hampered Sanger. Sanger ended Argyle's 32 game district winning streak last month, but with the District Championship on the line at Argyle on Tuesday, the Lady Eagles took a big halftime lead. Freshman

The Lady Eagles shot out to a 10-point lead heading into the second quarter. Sanger struggled to get back in transition, and Argyle made it pay with five 3-pointers from the Standifer sisters, Gabby and Sydney.

Freshman Sydney Standifer buried four 3-pointers in the second period to give her team an 18-point lead. Senior Morgan Yarbrough added seven of her nine points in the first half, and Rhyle McKinney finished with 11.

"I thought our adjustments at halftime paid off," Sykes said. "We tied them and held Sydney to just two trips to the line.

The Lady Indians take on Carrollton Ranchview 15-17 overall and 10-4 in District 10-4A on Tuesday, February 13 at Lake Dallas High School in the Class 4A bi-district playoffs. Ranchview only lost to Dallas Lincoln, the top ranked team in Region II, 60-43 on February 2.

"Last week was extremely difficult! We work so hard to get where we are at and to have the flu and injuries set you back, it's tough to take. I felt we got back on track tonight when we played Argyle. Even though the score does not show it, we played hard and kept fighting. We adjusted at half-time on defense but we never could make up for the damage that we caused in the first half. We need to get back to the basics and quit turning the ball over on offense. Our main focus right now is one game at a time," said coach Tracy Sykes.

JV PURPLE GIRLS BASKETBALL

The JV Purple girls basketball team beat Krum on Friday. It was another battle with the Lady Bobcats from Krum. Krum started off with a bang leading by 7 in the first qtr and by 5 at the half. The Lady Indians woke up in the third qtr, by making good decisions, handling the pressure and making key buckets when necessary. The Lady Indians hung on to the lead and a late comeback to win 39-30. Sanger: Bloom: 4, Trolinder: 10, Bell: 8, Moore: 6, Reding: 6, Barrett: 5.

JV GOLD GIRLS BASKETBALL

Recently, the JV Gold Lady Indians took on the Decatur Lady Eagles in a tough district matchup at home. The Lady Indians fell behind early in the game and were having to fight from behind all night. Even though the girls fought hard to come back, they fell short of the victory losing the game 55-25. The Lady Indians were led by Phoenix Dillin's 8 points, and Makinsey Payne's 7 points.

Sanger High School senior Damon Moser signed his National Letter of Intent to attend college on a football scholarship at Augustana University in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. The Vikings are a NCAA Division II University. Damon led Sanger on offense the past three years and to the playoffs every season he was on varsity. He was recruited to be a cornerback. He is pictured with his mom - Wendy Moser, brother Damian Echols, Sanger Head Football Coach Cole Ford, Sanger High School Athletic Director Chuck Galbreath. Damon is a straight 'A' student at SHS and will continue his education and football career at the beautiful Augustana campus.

The Sanger High School senior basketball players recognized favorite and most influential teachers, recently at SHS.

SHS varsity boys need win against Gainesville to stay alive for playoffs

Jarrett Scribner

Welcome to the family 🥰 pumped to be riding for @CenturionBoats and for the things to come this year!

brand locally. They will also introduce the Dallas boating community to the incredible team at Freedom Marine. Jason Taylor and James Wilson of Freedom have proven to be excellent partners to Centurion boats and the Dallas water sports community.

"We are excited to be a part of Jarrett's next chapter and watch him grow in the sport of wake-surfing and as an individual," expressed James Wilson, Freedom Marine Sales Manager.

"Jarrett is the great example of performance and poise. We are extremely excited an athlete of Jarrett's caliber as well as his family has chosen to represent Centurion and Freedom Marine." Commented Amy Mauzy, VP of Sales and Marketing for Centurion & Supreme Boats.

Please join Freedom Marine and Centurion Boats at the Dallas Boat Show to meet and congratulate Jarrett. He will be in the Freedom Marine booth #216 this weekend at various times both Saturday and Sunday.

Sanger High School junior Jarrett Scribner has been impressive since he started competing. In 2016 in the Centurion Boats Wakesurf Worlds Outlaw Division he had a strong 2nd Place finish. He entered the Pro Division in 2017, and last year at Arizona Wakesurf Open had a 2nd Place finish and at the Centurion Wakesurf Worlds a 7th Place finish.

Innovation has always been the hallmark of Centurion boats. Now, thanks to new product, leadership and Correct Craft company culture, innovation is running deeper than ever, into a re-imagining of the Centurion brand. Water sports enthusiasts are embracing Centurion boats for the world's best waves, wakes and ride, as well as ambitious design and inspired craftsmanship. Time to re-imagine your ride, in a Centurion. <http://centurionboats.com>
