Denton County Fire Marshall and Sanger resident laid to rest

Hundreds of family members, friends and co-workers gathered at First Baptist Church in Lewisville Monday afternoon for the funeral service of Denton County Fire Marshal Roland Asebedo, a Sanger resident, who died last week of complications from COVID-19.

Born in 1965 in Lockney, Asebedo graduated from Silverton High School in 1983. He would go on to spend over 30 years in emergency services, earning certifications for firefighter master, arson investigator master and inspector master from the Texas Commission on Fire Protection.

Asebedo worked in several emergency service capacities and with several different agencies, including in Plainview, Highland Village, Coppell and, starting in 2004, Denton County. He was first hired as an emergency management intern before being promoted to emergency management planner. Since 2005, he'd been the county's assistant director of emergency services before being promoted last October to fire marshal and director of development and emergency services.

Asebedo, 56, was highly regarded by his county co-workers for his work ethic and positive demeanor. At last week's Commissioners Court meeting, after his death was announced, Denton County Public Health Director Matt Richardson recalled one of his attempts to beat Asebedo to an early-morning vaccination clinic — which ended in failure despite setting his alarm for 3:55 a.m.

County Judge Andy Eads, speaking Monday at Asebedo's funeral, had many of his own stories to share. Whether it was his response to a loose elephant at a circus or a co-worker who needed to get in the office after midnight, each story had something in common.

"Roland Asebedo is a man like no other — a man with humility, yet a sense of higher purpose to protect and care for others," Eads said. "A man who always put everyone first before himself, any time, anywhere."

Able Asebedo, Roland's brother, said they talked every day, whether for a minute or for 20. He said he remembers Roland as "the best brother in the world," — as well as for his public service and the way he always treated others with respect, regardless of their status.

"He loved helping people and there were one or two instances in Silverton when we had some bad fires, and it bothered him, but it didn't keep him from going on," Able Asebedo said in a phone interview. "It didn't matter what promotion he got, he could see the lowest person on the street and he would visit with them."

Able had a lesson, too, that people should take from Roland's life and career.

"Whatever field you're in, just push it as much as you can and try to do the best you can," Able Asebedo said. "And don't forget the people that are your friends. Treat them right."

Roland Asebedo is survived by his wife, Michele "Mickey" Asebedo of Sanger; daughter, Lorrin Asebedo of Denton; son, Jordan Asebedo of The Colony; mother, Mary Asebedo of Silverton; brother, Able Asebedo of Silverton; sister, Marilyn Leal of Pottsboro, and several aunts, uncles, nephews, nieces and cousins. He was preceded in death by his father, Johnny Asebedo, and sister, Venita Howell.

Jim Haisler

Marcy 7, 1960 - September 16, 2021

Jim Haisler, a Denton, Texas native, artist and photographer, passed away unexpectedly in his sleep on September 16th at the age of 61.

Jim was born on March 7, 1960, the second child to J.B. and Shirley Haisler of Sanger. Growing up, he enjoyed hiking, camping, exploring anything in the outdoors, and was often found collecting reptiles, insects, rocks, and fossils. He was an Eagle Scout, backpacking in Philmont, NM, and later in the Rocky Mountains and Tetons. His goal was to land a position as staff photographer for the National Geographic. He was a hard worker on his parent's farm, hauling hay and helping build their home in the 1970's. Although he became quadriplegic following an accident during the summer of 1980, in his own words "it was important to prove to himself that he could still maintain an active lifestyle." Four years later, he graduated from the University of North Texas with a degree in Fine Arts and Photography and was also skilled in sculpture and painting. He has exhibited his works in prestigious galleries and museums from Washington State to Washington D.C., as well as Tampa, Orlando, Chicago, and the Dallas/Fort Worth metropolitan area.

He had a strong love of music, good concerts and frequented many Denton music venues. He managed to travel extensively, everywhere from Europe to Central America and Mexico and even made it to Machu Pichu, Peru. Along the way, he took beautiful photos, made close friends, and once went skydiving.

In later years, Jim developed an interest in numismatics. He continued to prize time spent with his family, making it to family reunions around the country, even as his health challenges worsened. He was proud of all his nieces and nephews and found joy in following their adventures, photos, and making it to their key life events. They all loved hearing the wild stories that he would share in his own meandering way.

Jim is survived by his parents, J.B. and Shirley Haisler; his sisters, Jeanne LeVelle (Jim), Julie Knight (Bruce), and Jacque Jones (Scott); ten nieces and nephews; and four great nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his younger brother, Johnny Haisler, his grandparents Joe and Rose Haisler, and Henry and Vivian and Pearl Trietsch.

Visitation was held from 6 PM to 8 PM at DeBerry Funeral Directors on Tuesday, September 21, 2021. Funeral services were scheduled for 11 AM, Wednesday at Blue Mound United Methodist Church in Sanger. Interment will follow at Blue Mound Cemetery.

OBITUARIES...

Ellen Meyrle Reynolds

Ellen Meyrle Reynolds, 76, of Sanger passed away on September 16, 2021, at her home in Sanger. She was born in Quitman, Texas to Cisero and Maggie (Baxley) Copeland.

On September 16th, Meyrle left her earthly body and joined the angels in heaven. If Meyrle were here to tell her story, she would say that she was loved.

In 1976 James & Meyrle moved their family to Sanger, where Meyrle chose to stay and raise her family after James's passing. Sanger is a community of family and Meyrle knew she would need help from this army, to raise her children. That her greatest accomplishment in life was her children, and that she had the best grandkids and great grandkids this side of heaven.

Meyrle loved unconditionally and was loved by many. If you knew her you couldn't help but love her. Back in the days when we had home phones. Meyrle was listed as E.M. Reynolds in the phone book, her kids teased her and said it stood for "Everyone's Mom". If you knew her or any of her children, you know this to be true. Meyrle loved and welcomed many into her home, where she just let you be you. She loved to cook and spend time with her family. If you ever had a conversation with her, she'd take the opportunity to brag about them. She was a proud Mother, Mamaw & great Mamaw.

Meyrle always had a smile on her face, and the most contagious giggle. She was happy and content to be at home, to be close to her family, never asking for anything, never traveling, because everything she needed was right here. I believe her advice to us would be, love well my friends, treasure your family and if you don't know Jesus as your Lord and savior, today's a great day to get to know Him.

Don't cry for me, as I have finally decided to travel to paradise with my Lord, I am having a great family reunion and I will see you again someday,

And be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God in Christ forgave you. Ephesians 4:10

She is survived by her daughters, Teresa Ann Parsons and husband Dennis of Sadler, Texas, Sherry Reynolds of Sanger and Christy Sparlin and her husband Curtis of Krum, her son, James Reynolds and his wife Shannon of Sanger, Texas, 2 brothers, Charles Copeland of Howe, Tx., Tommy Copland of Denton, four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, James Reynolds, her mother and father, sisters, Mary Obier, and Geraldine Smith and one grandchild, Cooper Sparlin.

The family received friends on Monday, September 20, 2021, from 5-7 PM at Bolivar Baptist Church in Sanger. Funeral Services were held at Bolivar Baptist Church on Tuesday, September 21, 2021, at 10:00 AM. Interment followed at Rowlett Creek Cemetery in Plano, Texas.
