Denton County Master Gardener Carol Rowley of Sanger will be at Sanger Public Library Jan. 10

BY AUDREY TOLLE

While people are in the midst of planning spring gardening, it is appropriate to think about not just what you want to see in the garden, but what pollinators such as birds, butterflies, and bees would like to see. Denton County Master Gardener Carol Rowley of Sanger is coming to Sanger Public Library on January 10th at 11:00 am to help consider just that in planning our gardens.

Carol has been a Denton County Master Gardener since 2008 and a gardener all her life, beginning to help her grandmother at age one. She has had some of the same plants for 40 years. Her educational background was in zoology, botany, and computers, and she was an educator for many years. In addition to gardening, she

Gov. Greg Abbott has declared January as School Board Recognition Month.

"In Texas, we place immense value in our youth. We protect them, guide them, and are always working toward a better tomorrow to secure our young people's bright and precious futures. We also understand the tremendous value of education in young people's lives and strive to ensure our state provides our youth with the opportunity to receive a rigorous and well-rounded education that will function as the foundation upon which their dreams will be built into reality.

"School boards play a vital role in our effort to develop education in the Lone Star State as they work with parents, education professionals, and community members to create successful learning environments. While each day brings new challenges for Texas public schools and the students they serve, school board members, along with other dedicated school officials, have tackled these challenges as opportunities to discuss important issues, develop innovation solutions, and empower educators.

"At this time, I encourage all Texans to join in celebrating the work and success of our many school board members across Texas who play an important role in the education of Texas' youth. The children we nurture right now will become the leaders of our state and nation in the future," Abbott said.

Gardening

has been a watercolor artist for 20 years and combines those interests as she travels.

Texas Master Gardener classes began in 1979 in Montgomery County and have grown to encompass 76 counties. The program began in Denton County in 1989. Each Master Gardener completes a classroom course and a volunteer requirement. The 70-hour classroom course expands the capabilities of the AgriLife Extension Service (coordinated by The Texas A&M University System) in spreading horticultural news and knowledge, and the 70-hour volunteer portion serves the community in providing hands-on work beautifying parks and museum grounds and public areas and in creating or assisting in community gardens. Master Gardeners generously share their knowledge with the public by patiently answering questions and solving problems that come in on their help-lines, running information booths at various local events, giving garden tours, and speaking to a variety of groups.

The Library is located at 501 Bolivar and can be reached by phone at 940-458-3257, e-mail library@sangertexas.org, and on Facebook. While preregistration is not required, those interested are encouraged to register on Eventbrite.com to ensure enough handouts.

School Board

"School Board Recognition Month is the perfect time to thank the 7,300 locally elected leaders who deeply care about the success of all Texas children. These dedicated men and women strive for excellence in our public schools and serve without pay on local boards. In communities across the state, they willingly step forward to tackle serious issues, deal with financial uncertainties, and still provide excellent education experiences for our children," said James B. Crow, executive director of the Texas Association of School Boards (TASB).

"The long hours and enormous responsibilities of school board service often are not visible to those who may not fully understand the challenges facing public education. Yet, these local trustees embrace hard work as they demonstrate compassion and concern for the success and well-being of every Texas student. They work closely with parents and educators to develop sound education policies in their districts and set high standards for student success," Crow said.

"We urge every community to thank local board members for their unfailing commitment to the students in their charge as they tackle this important job. Join us in applauding them for making the time to care about the future of Texas schoolchildren, their local communities, and this state," he said.

THANK YOU... Sanger ISD Annual Sr. Citizen and Retired Teachers Christmas Luncheon 2019

There was a huge turnout at this annual event. Thank you to Cheryl and Kerry Schertz for yet another successful event. A special thanks to Paige Hachmeister and her crew for the delicious meal and to all the campus principals and their students for the awesome decorations and gifts for all to enjoy. And, you can't have an event without the music - Mr. Martinez and all the Campus Choir teachers and students - the Sound of Christmas was just perfect.
